We've received back a signed agreement from Microsoft in which they've agreed to assign at least a 1/2 time employee to joint project definition with us to explore potential applications for our machine.

I've left a message for Jeff Raikes to let him know I received the agreement (he's impossible to get on the phone) and that I am going ahead and calling Victor Grabner, who I believe is the staff that will be on the project.

The likely first step is for Victor to come here for a couple days of indoctrination and learning. Hopefully real soon. I'll keep you appraised for progress and news.
