I am not sure how much you have talked with Pradeep, but based on several discussions with ISVs and others at Comdex (and meetings that NCR stood us up on), it looks very much like NCR is going to sign with Go for their notebook PC. They still claim they are also going to work with us, but they are being very evasive. Pradeep is leaving town again so I want to followup. Unless you have a better suggestion, I am going to call Alok Mohan to see what I can find out. We need to figure out how to change their mind (if possible, it may be too late) and if that can't be done, we need to reduce the damage by getting them to also endorse Pen Windows in some fashion as they have already agreed.

By the way, effective any day now (as soon as Jeffr announces it), I am the Pen Win unit manager. Pradeep and Lloyd will report to me.
