

Response Pool Bet

It looks like Mikemap is going to walk away with the pool, with a guess of just over 6%, but the final tally won't be until May 16.

Joe

Mail-Flags: 0001

From mikemap Sat Apr 27 08:46:30 1991

To: darrylr

Subject: Re: ole and os/2

Date: Sat Apr 27 08:46:28 1991

Bill and Steve are in react mode to OS/2 2.0 right now. This is subject to change. I would let the issue simmer for a few weeks. If there is hardly in work left, then we can finish and put on the shelf if we decide to. Worst case it could be used by MS apps.

The IBM war may take one of several directions. Apps should watch for a few weeks and not do anything.

>From darrylr Fri Apr 26 10:35:05 1991

To: mikemap

Subject: ole and os/2

Date: Fri Apr 26 09:32:44 PDT 1991

Bill has asked me to stop all work on making ole run on os/2. We actually had this mostly working already...the ole binaries run unchanged on os/2 and there was just some debugging to do. The fact that Bill wants this to stop tells me that we are embarking on an all out war against os/2. Is this your understanding? If true then some of our key people need to understand the strategy I would think.

Mail-Flags: 0001

From mikemap Sat Apr 27 08:48:21 1991

To: bobga

Subject: Re: Charleen Mininfield Resigns

Date: Sat Apr 27 08:48:20 1991

All was done correctly, therefore there should be no problem.

>From bobga Tue Apr 23 14:28:10 1991

To: mikemap

Subject: Charleen Mininfield Resigns

Date: Tue Apr 23 14:25:16 1991

Mike,

Here seems to be the current status on Charleen Mininfield, the employee here who moved successively to a Performance Improvement Plan and then to Probation, about whom you've heard in the past.

The week before last, Charleen unexpectedly left and flew to Redmond to meet with Nancy Harlowe in HR (without sharing her travel plans). Of course, Nancy already had all the documentation of the months of process

X 180547
CONFIDENTIAL

