Great. Let's keep all companies from the blacklist out of the conference. We should uninvite the Apple person and then make sure we do not accept any from the other companies.

Okay?

The list is the entire black list. 10 days ago there was only one person, from apple, that had signed up from the black list. It's pretty safe to say that there will be more.

I'm not sure I understand your mail. Is the list below the entire "blacklist" or just the overlap of the blacklist and the conference attendee list?

If Apple is the only member of the blacklist that has signed up, then I agree with Jon we should uninvite them entirely. Call them up and tell them not to show up. Return any monies promptly.

If there is more than Apple, please identify the problem attendees.

Thanks,
Cam

The beta black list contains the following companies:

- Acbel
- Apple
- DRI
- GO
- IBM (only certain locations)
- Sun (clear with Janineh)

As of last Friday we had one person from Apple registered.

Like Cam, I would also like to see the list and we can then deal with them one at a time. Apple (or IBM) can certainly be un-invited.
