I must be dense today. Remove them from the NO SHIP list or remove them from the Beta list?

As an ISV that produces software for both the Mac and Windows, I'd like to see Claris producing software for Chicago. Without knowing why they were on the NO SHIP list in the first place, though, it is hard for me to balance their potential Windows ISV value against why we should not ship them a beta...

we should probably remove them. can you think of a reason to keep them on?

Claris is on the Astro NO PRELEASE INFO list... does this mean we should not give them a Chicago beta?
