

Erik Stevenson

From: Brad Silverberg
To: Bob Kruger; johnlu; jonro; paulma; richt
Subject: RE: betas to Novell
Date: Tuesday, August 03, 1993 9:18AM

I agree with you on dr dos7. it was not included purposefully in the beta agreement. we do not test on dr dos nor do we intend to. it's their job to ensure compatibility with windows and we are not going to help them.

From: Bob Kruger
To: bradsi; johnlu; jonro; paulma; richt
Subject: RE: betas to Novell
Date: Tuesday, August 03, 1993 9:10AM

i intend to utilize the same definition as they do for "beta." johnlu and i have both told them this. that being the case they get chicago "beta" when we're 6-12 wks out from shipment unless johnlu feels it essential for them to have it earlier.

novell dos is not included in the agmt. however, i was contacted yesterday their director of mktg for dos, who wants to work w/ us to ensure windows works atop it. as mentioned in earlier email, i see no reason to be proactive on this front or to amend the beta agmt to include novell dos.

-bobkr

From: Brad Silverberg
To: Bob Kruger; John Ludwig; Jonathan Roberts; Paul Maritz; Richard Tong
Subject: RE: betas to Novell
Date: Tuesday, August 03, 1993 08:33

it covers chicago only to the extent that you interpret beta differently from how novell has interpreted so far. in addition, each side has the right to terminate at any time.

btw, have we gotten any feedback or bug reports from novell on the snowball we have already sent them?

From: johnlu
To: bobkr; bradsi; jonro; paulma; richt
Subject: RE: betas to Novell
Date: Tuesday, August 03, 1993 6:06AM

we're obligated only for betas shipped during 1993. the agmt also makes specific reference to "beta" as distinct from simple "pre-release" code. novell has certainly taken that interpretation.

just so we are all clear, the agreement covers MS-DOS, Windows, WFW, and NT.

From Novell's side, Netware, NW Lite and Personal NW for DOS/Windows/NT, and NW clients to the extent they aren't included above.

MS7092630 CONFIDENTIAL

MS-PCA 1181690 CONFIDENTIAL

EXH 67 DATE 2/14/02
WITNESS Silverberg
MARY W. MILLER

and it refers to "pre-release (beta) versions of the above products shipped during 1993".

so depending on how you interpret the agreement, yes chicago is covered by this.