CONFIDENTIAL

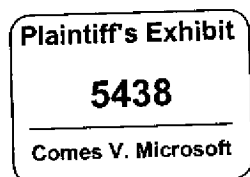

here is the message we plan on putting up when we do not detect ms-dos. i thought it was a great idea to spin this more towards the notion that windows and ms-dos are two integral pieces to one operating system, not separate independent pieces. word-smithing encouraged to incorporate this idea. the current wording has already made it thru legal; new words would have to be also.

Setup has detected that the operating system software running on this machine is not MS-DOS. Microsoft Windows was designed to run with MS-DOS versions 3.1 and higher. Windows is tested running on MS-DOS on a vast variety of machine and peripheral configurations (see system requirements and hardware compatibility list for details). Running Microsoft Windows on an operating system other than MS-DOS could cause defective and or unpredictable performance and is at the customer's sole risk."
