toby called this morning. .he's the director, mktg for dr dos 7. said he wanted to resume conversation he started sometime ago w/ tonya re. working together to ensure windows runs smoothly atop dr dos 7.

i danced and said i was still getting the hang of this new assignment and would poke into it a bit, and get back to him. I didn't give a timeframe and evoked little interest.

my impression is that we have little interest in ensuring that windows runs ok atop their dos. we have enough on our plates just ensuring windows runs fine atop ms-dos. pls correct me, if wrong.
