Steveb agreed at the NSM to stop this - The field was VERY unhappy about this - Please shutdown LM/SQL/Comm will get hurt bad if this continues Dwayne richta Thu Aug 15 15:56:44 1991 >From To: billmi davidt dwaynew jonl peterhey russw Cc: Subject: RE: test case: terminator app Date: Wed Aug 14 15:56:22 PDT 1991 This is absolutely the wrong thing to do. What we have to spend time on is that Win3.1 is same/more robust than OS/2 2.0, if you guys give bad app to the field you might as well kiss the server applications group good buy. People will go to Unix, we are seeing this happen, and they will buy Sybase, no question. So think long and hard before you decide on the apporpriate reaction, I think we have the tools to do this without bad app. And from the reaction that I have seen from the analysts meeting so do the press. Petty one upmanship from Microsoft Think about it. I would like to let the field and richta's group use it selectively.
