So do you want me to choose someone with no DOS skills -- or poison a good DOS developer?? We have to find a way to do this that does not poison a developer. If this is not possible, then I would like to tr y

to find a third party to help with this. I cannot have a guy like MikeDr work on this is it means that I have to pull him off of the DOS

6 team when he is done.

Ben, do you have anyone who knows DOS and would be good to dig into DRDOS for copyright infringements, but who will not be working on DOS compatibility for the foreseeable future?? If not, do you know of anyone on another project who might fit this bill?
